

The Hardy Plant Society was formed to foster interest in hardy herbaceous plants. It aims to give information about the wealth of both well- and little-known plants, and to ensure that all worthy plants remain in cultivation and have the widest possible distribution.

President: Roy Lancaster
Vice Presidents: Dilys Davies, Tony Lord, Brian Mitchell and Gwladys Tonge

All enquiries, including membership and advertising, to:

Joy Dimond, The Administrator
 15 Basepoint Business Centre
 Crab Apple Way
 Evesham WR11 1GP

admin@hardy-plant.org.uk
 01386 710317

The editor reserves the right to edit contributions as necessary. The opinions expressed by authors and advertisers are not specifically endorsed by the HPS. Illustrations as acknowledged. Although all reasonable care is taken, the HPS cannot accept responsibility for unsolicited material.

Collection and editorial matter
 © The Hardy Plant Society 2014
 Charity No. 208080

Typeset and printed by Holbrooks Printers Ltd, Portsmouth

Contents

The unnatural gardener ‘Natural’ gardening is a contradiction in terms Peter Williams	3	Asclepias syriaca revisited Much loved by gardeners, Asclepias is essential to the migratory Monarch butterfly John Silk	49
Trends, shoots and leaves Good foliage plants, both fashionable and old favourites Judy Harry	10	Social climbing Climbing plants make a city garden a secret haven Lesley Kant Cunneen	53
Better late than never Late-flowering daylilies outwit Hemerocallis Gall Midge Duncan Skene	18	Christmas trees for high summer Propagating pohutukawa, the New Zealand Christmas tree Kevin Line	59
Gardening on heavy clay Well-worked clay provides ideal conditions for a surprising range of plants Keith & Lorna Ferguson	25	Guilt in the garden Short cuts and adjustments to local conditions are not a cardinal sin Gill Heavens	62
Candy Carrot, Spignel and Matthiasella Some less familiar umbellifers make distinctive garden plants Tim Ingram	33	The plateau of orchids Orchids flower in succession throughout the summer Gordon James	67
A guide to basic lily growing Growing lilies in the garden, and propagation from seed, bulbils, bulblets and scaling Harris Howland	38	Whose garden is it anyway? Wilful plants add charm to a country garden Alex Pankhurst	73
Mad dogs and pixie cups Often unnoticed, these plants are crucial to our gardens Martin & Rowan Spray	43	The learning curve Pure white flowers are too cold, even for summer Val Bourne	77

www.hardy-plant.org.uk

Front Cover
Cardiocrinum giganteum

grows well in heavy clay soil which has been lightened with much leaf mould and strawy manure.

© Keith Ferguson

All submissions to the editor

Pam Ratcliffe

editor@hardy-plant.org.uk

While the editor is on the move, please ask the HPS office for her current telephone number and/or address